

I strongly believe that the FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections.

These protections have had a great impact on the number of annoying telemarketing calls I receive. Before the law, I used to get about four or five calls PER NIGHT! Now, it is the rare evening when we get even one.

Please don't water this law down!